Fire risk drops - concern continues

The fire risk in Haliburton County has been lowered from high to moderate since last Thursday's thundershowers, but the Ministry of Natural Resources' ban on open fires is still in effect across Ontario.

The storm dumped 25.6 mm of rain on dry county forests.

However the fire operations manager for the MNR Haliburton office, Tom Russell, said that unless more rain comes the fire risk could increase again.

Since last Tuesday, May 12, it has been prohibited in most of the province to have any open fires. Barbeques and gas stoves are allowed.

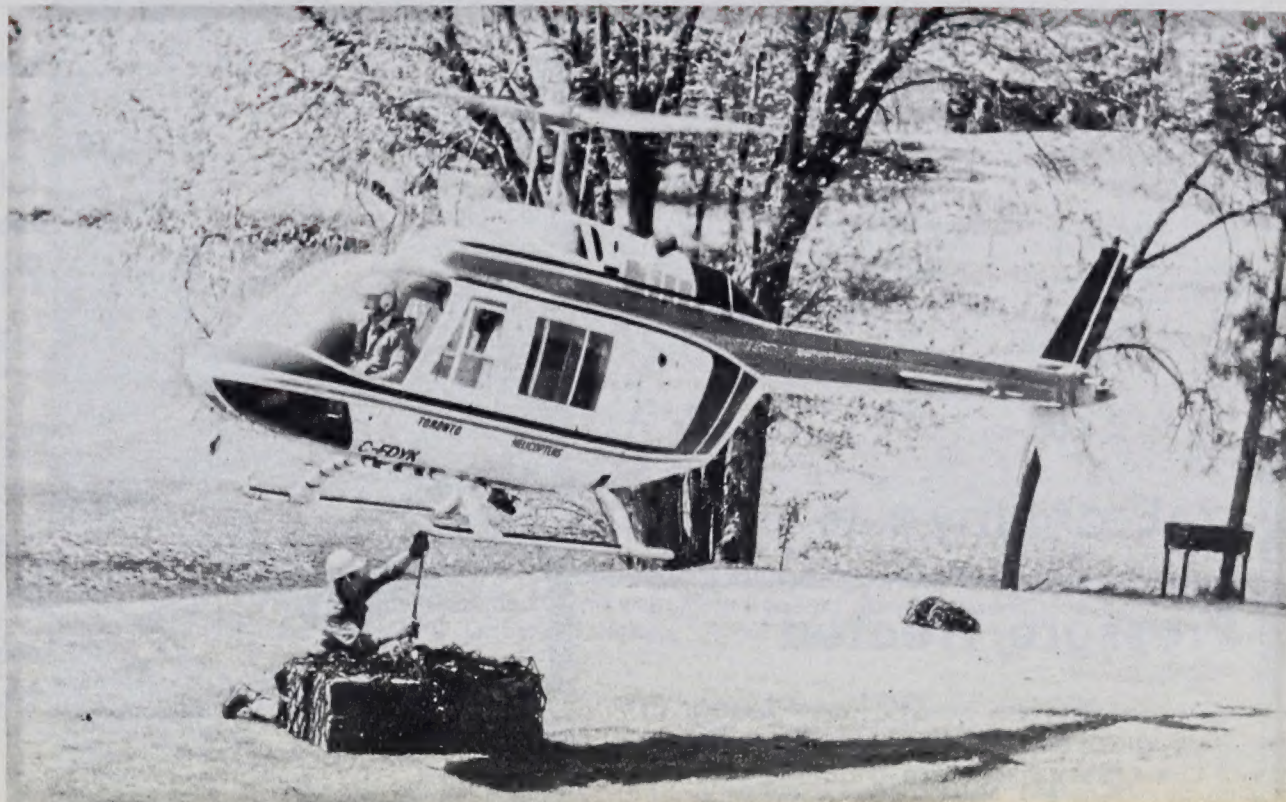

In the last two weeks the Haliburton MNR fire centre has sent crews to 12 forest fires in the county. So far this spring they have put out 18 fires.

Because of the dry weather, the fires are much larger. The Union Creek fire near Kinmount on May 9 destroyed 200 acres of forest and brush and a fire in Stanhope the day after burned 18 acres.

Five local fire departments and two MNR crews fought the Union Creek blaze, which was started when a tree became tangled in a power line. It took them about 18 hours to get it under control.

In normal years the MNR crews are usually able to extinguish forest fires before they've burned an acre. This year however, the average blaze has consumed 20 acres before being put out.

To make work easier for the ministry fire crews and to save our forests, county residents are asked to be extremely careful with fire.

The recent rash of forest fires in the Minden MNR District prompted the ministry to station a helicopter at its Haliburton Fire Control Centre. The craft, seen here lifting off with a load of supplies, was used to survey fires in progress, the extent of damage, assist in bringing fire crews to the blazes and help in dousing the flames by water bombing the fires. For a report on the forest fire situation, see page 10.

HHSS athletes once again turned in a superior performance at the COSSA championships held May 7 in Peterborough. These students will now advance to Eastern Ontario finals this week in Ottawa. Among the qualifiers are, from the left, front row, Darren Warburton and Gavin McKnight. Second row, Ted Paish, Lori-Ann Duguay, Blake Callard. Third row, Marty Andrews, Lesley Tashlin, Ron Perrin. Back row, Alex Little, John Vanderhorst, Trevor Powers and Darren Whittaker. For a complete report on the athletes' activities see page 14.

Property owners object to Kushog development

The Kushog Lake Property Owners' Association has expressed concern about the proposed Beau Valley resort development.

In a letter to Stanhope council, the president of the association, Norma Goodger said property owners of Kushog Lake had expressed "a wide variety of concerns" when informed of the details of the proposed development.

Goodger said in her letter, "it is imperative that our association be kept informed of any changes in zoning on Kushog Lake."

Minden resident Joe Warder announced last January that he was planning to develop Beau Valley farms, a riding stable on the Queen's Line, into a resort complex including a lodge, an archery range, an arena, a trout pond, and a waterfront recreation area on Lake Kushog.

Warder estimated the cost of the development at about 10 million dollars.

However, since agreeing to the proposal in principle last winter, neither Stanhope nor Anson, Hindon and Minden councils have heard anything more from Warder.

At the Stanhope council meeting last Wednesday reeve Harry Davis said he thought Goodger's concerns about the Beau Valley

Students begin SADD chapter

One thing Tracy Miscio and Donna Ireland want to get straight is that they're not against drinking. But what they don't like is people who drink and drive.

The two Haliburton Highlands Secondary School grade 11 students are firm on this point and to get it across to the rest of the community, they've formed SADD, also known as Students Against Drunk Driving.

The purpose of the group is to publicize the problem of drunk driving and in this way, to encourage people to stop it.

Membership in SADD is open to everyone at the High School.

"We want make people aware of what's happening, says Tracy. "We want them to realize that no one has the right to take someone else's life just because they're drunk."

The two students got the idea to start the group in their Man and Society class about a month ago.

Meeting will show folly of drinking and driving

To make their point, they plan to hold a series of seminars and talks by experts on the subject.

"There's already a lot of interest in what we're doing," says Donna. "Quite a few other kids understand what we're doing and they want to get involved."

Both Tracy and Donna have had their lives affected by drunk drivers. Two years ago, Tracy's cousin was killed when the driver of the vehicle she was riding in, who had been drinking, was involved in an accident.

"It was a major shock for everyone in the family," says Tracy. "And it's just too bad that it takes a death for people to realize that something's wrong."

Donna was affected indirectly when a friend of a friend was killed by a drunk driver. "Even if you don't know the person," she says, "it still hurts."

Tracy and Donna realize that they won't be able to change the popular attitude toward alcohol and driving overnight. But they believe they can start.

Along with the Minden Detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police SADD is sponsoring an Anti-Impaired Driving Seminar to be held at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School this Thursday, starting at 7 p.m.

Admission is free and refreshments will be served.

Included in the seminar will be presentations by a representative of the OPP, the local coroner, the crown prosecutor and two Lakefield girls, Melissa and Michell Hagg whose lives have been tragically affected by an accident involving an impaired driver. Organizers hope that parents, interested citizens and students from the elementary schools will attend the evening presentations. The high school students will be included in a seminar planned for the afternoon.

HHSS students Tracy Miscio and Donna Ireland want people to stop drinking and driving, so they started a chapter of Students Against Drunk Driving (SADD).

development were premature. "We don't know anything more about the development than the Kushog Lake Property Owners' Association do," Davis said.

Davis added that he believed Warder's proposal could be of great benefit to both Stanhope Township and Haliburton County.

Other councillors agreed with Davis.

Councillor Ann Barker pointed out that Warder and his backers are carrying out a study to determine whether the development would be beneficial to the county and how it would affect the environment.

The tension of the past week has eased somewhat, with the arrival of rain Thursday evening and cooler temperatures. The change in the weather helped alleviate an extremely dangerous forest fire situation.

This is the first time in a number of years that this area has experienced such severe conditions. For that we can be grateful. The cycle of spring thaw followed by warm dry conditions appears to have become almost an annual event in northern Ontario where each year thousands of acres are left charred and useless.

We are fortunate as well, because in many sections of this area, the forests are of mixed variety. While these are stands of quick-to-burn evergreens, they are dispersed enough to all but eliminate the chance of a major blaze raging out of control over a wide area. The hardwood bush is not conducive to major conflagrations.

But that does not absolve the community of those fires which can be prevented. Precious manpower and resources must be diverted from other trouble spots to deal with the blazes here that may well have been avoided. As well, while the fires in our area may appear to only burn dead grasses and dried matter on the forest floors, such a blaze destroys habitat for a number of animals and insects and severely distorts the ecological balance as it scars the land.

All forest fires cannot be prevented. Some are a result of natural occurrences. However 80% or more of the fires encountered in Ontario's forests have been linked to a man-made cause. While the danger may have eased for now, perhaps for this year, all those who venture into the bush would be wise to know and obey the rules that will ensure our forest will remain green and growing.

BLOOD Give before you go.

Ah...city life

- by Arthur Black -

Okay. Let's try to examine the thing logically. Why would anyone want to move to Toronto?

Sports? To watch the Argos? The Blizzard? To support an NHL franchise that finished 18th out of 22 and hasn't seen the Stanley Cup for the past five Prime Ministers? Sure, the Blue Jays are a good baseball team but you have to watch 'em in Exhibition Stadium, a creaky, narrow uncomfortable wind tunnel on the chilly shores of Lake Ontario -- plus you need a periscope to find out who's on first.

No, you don't move to Toronto for spectator sports.

How about the active kind then -- skiing? Are you kidding? Twiggy's got more hills than Toronto. The slopes are 90 miles away -- and 60 miles of that is the lineup for the ski tow.

Fishing then? Hoo boy. You want to try fishing in the Humber or the Don River? You want to dip a line along Toronto's lakeshore? Good luck. Don't forget to wear asbestos gloves and a radiation suit. You can probably sell anything you catch to Steven Spielberg. He can use them as extras in his next extra-terrestrial horror flick.

What about scenery? Maybe people move to Toronto for the magnificent vistas and pastoral panoramas? Sois serieux, cheri. On a clear day from the top of the CN tower you can just make out the smokestacks of Hamilton.

That's if you can get to the Tower through the herds of tour buses from Buffalo.

Hey, maybe that's why people go to Toronto -- to gawk at all its architectural treasures and cultural Meccas.

Well, there is the CN Tower, Casa Loma, art galleries, museums, the Metro Zoo, Honest Ed's...

The catch is getting to them. Toronto is networked by a system of superhighways, highways, biways, roads and back alleys that may well be the envy of the Western world. May be -- we'll never know because at any given time 60 percent of them are closed for sewer installation, re-surfacing, widening, narrowing or simple pot hole repair. This leaves the other 40 percent with the burden of carrying the 13 trillion cars trucks and motorbikes that start their engines every morning. You don't drive to Toronto, you just park and idle for hours at a time. Mind you, Toronto has discovered a brand new transportation concept - Terminal Gridlock.

Well, that would seem to settle it. Nobody in their right mind would move to Toronto to watch sports, play sports, take in the sights or bask in the cultural ambience. It only leaves one tiny question...

Why is everybody moving to Toronto?

They are, you know. They must be. Somebody's buying all those houses.

The real estate market in downtown Hogtown is absolutely, totally take-all-your-clothes-off-and-hang-from-the-chandeliers nuts. Torontonians who put their houses on the market at ridiculously inflated prices get hysterical phone calls from people beseeching them to please take MORE. I know a guy who owns a house in the West End, five miles from downtown. It sits cheek by jowl with a dozen or so other houses just like it. Postage stamp lawn, no driveway, two bedrooms. The house is...well I have to say 'modest' because the guy's a friend of mine, but between you and me the place is a dump. Two weeks ago my friend -- happily married, good job -- decided to list his house to see what it would bring. He asked for $250,000 -- just to make sure he wouldn't be tempted.

He's retiring early and moving to Halifax next month. Right after the sale of his house goes through -- for $310,000.

What's even more amazing is that my friend's story isn't even special. Tell it to a Toronto real estate agent and he or she will nod impatiently then relate a tale that makes it sound like small potatoes.

You want to know how crazy the Toronto real estate market is? House prices in Toronto have gone up by 35 percent in the last year alone. Thirty-five percent! The price of an average house -- average house mind, that takes in all the tumbledown shacks and sagging flophouses as well as normal domiciles you might actually consider trying to play house in -- is $175,000.

And that's the price as we go to press. By the time you read this it'll probably be higher. By the time you turn to the next page, it'll be higher still.

That means that real estate agents who usually collect a commission of 6 percent on a house sale, are pulling in something like 10,500 bucks for every 'average' house they sell.

Hey.

I think I just solved the problem.

I know who's moving to Toronto. Real estate agents. Toronto's being taken over by an army of real estate agents.

Black's hot tip of the week: sell all your stocks. Put every cent you've got into plaid sports jackets.

Federation of Ontario Naturalists

This is the time of year all of us enjoy being outside. For many of us this means visiting woods, streams and lakes. Unfortunately many of these places now carry scars inflicted by human carelessness. We are the only species which routinely fouls its own nest. Along favourite streams, pipes discharge malodorous liquids; oily orange runoff oozes from places along the bank. Our lake is choking in algae, its growth encouraged by the runoff from chemical fertilizers. Even our wells may be unusable because the ground water has been contaminated by the continuing use of chemical herbicides and pesticides. Our own personal habits may be contributing to the problem. How many of us routinely dump caustic household cleaners and solvents down the drain, or throw unused chemical sprays into the garbage.

The Federation of Ontario Naturalists has tackled the problem of hazardous wastes in a 30 minute documentary which got its first television showing on Sunday, May 17 on Rogers Cable in Toronto. This is the story of man's thoughtless destruction of the environment. The first part of the film exposed a sorry tale of ignorance, indifference and greed which have turned our lakes and rivers into poisonous sewers and pitter the earth with sinks of toxic waste. There are more than 800 man-made chemicals in the Great Lakes and we have begun to reap what we have sown.

The effects of prolonged exposure to chemicals has

What do you think about

Toxic rain

by Bill Kulas

Acid rain carried, at times, such a variety of chemicals that many scientists have given acid rain a new name, toxic rain.

Several months ago, there was a news report out of Florida which stated that the German auto manufacturer BMW was not going to use the docks at Jacksonville Florida due to acid pollution. The acid pollution was so strong that it peeled the paint off the new BMW cars awaiting delivery in the city's port. Even buildings and man-made structures can be seriously damaged. The Federal government's acid rain committee estimated some time ago that the pollution's damage to building materials in Canada is in excess of $285 million per year.

If acid rain is so potent, can it not also affect one's health? In testimony this year before a U.S. Senate committee, Dr. Philip Landrigan, of New York City's Mount Sinai School of Medicine, said that his review of Canadian and U.S. studies confirms that low levels of air pollution can produce toxic effects in the lung. According to Landrigan, "acid rain is probably third after active and passive smoking as a cause of lung disease."

In April, the Toronto Star wrote about similar findings. Dr. Bonnie Stern, a Health and Welfare Department scientist in researching the subject had concluded that humans are potentially at risk from acid rain. Her comparison included children in Tillsonburg, Ontario, a known acid rain area, with those in a not so widely affected acid rain area, Portage La Prairie in Manitoba. Her findings found a statistically significant higher number of children with lung problems in the Ontario community as well as more children suffering from coughs, colds, stuffy noses and allergies.

The evidence is clear and to the point. Government's must work together in order to set new more stringent regulations governing air pollution. What we don't need is more money being spent on more studies to determine what we already now know!

What do you think? Your views regarding acid rain pollution would be appreciated. Please write to the Editor.

Speech outlines government's future

-by John Eakins MPP-

Late last month, there was a great deal of media coverage of the Speech from the Throne.

The reading of this important document is accompanied by much fanfare and tradition and it is an important event in the life of a Parliamentary session.

A Throne Speech basically outlines the priorities of the government and identified the goals the government hopes to attain during the current session of parliament.

I was very pleased with the speech because I felt it addresses many of the issues and concerns expressed to me by the people of Victoria-Haliburton.

One example is in the area of environmental protection. My colleague the Honourable Jim Bradley, Minister of the Environment, has introduced some very worthwhile and innovative programs during the last 22 months to improve and protect our environment.

I am encouraged to be able to tell you that we will continue to work toward a goal of a cleaner Ontario.

As the Lieutenant Governor told the legislature, "Safe drinking water and clean air are major and essential components of public health protection."

My government will ensure that Ontario continues to be a world leader in environmental protection.

We will introduce a new comprehensive waste management funding program with a strong long-term emphasis on recycling. The program will support municipal initiatives to upgrade existing landfill sites and develop alternatives and establish state-of-the-art waste management facilities. The program will also stimulate efforts by Ontario industries to develop effective means of reducing, recycling, reusing and recovering waste products.

In keeping with the acid precipitation agreement that was recently concluded with the government of Canada, Ontario reiterates its strong commitment to achieving the 60 per cent emission reduction required by the countdown acid rain program.

Our efforts alone, however, cannot fully protect our resources from acid rain. We need a similar abatement program from the United States. Ontario will continue to be a strong voice for national and international action in this area.

I was encouraged by the attention and priority given to the Ministry of Tourism and Recreation since it too, plays an important role in communities in Haliburton and Victoria Counties.

For example, we will introduce a special fund to make Tourism and Recreation programs and facilities more accessible to disabled persons.

We will also introduce additional measures to encourage increased participation in fitness and recreational activities and promote safety in amateur sports. These measures will include grants to: upgrade facilities; install safety equipment; and train recreation staff and volunteers.

Next week I will discuss the role tourism and agriculture will play in the growth and development in Victoria-Haliburton and throughout Ontario.

Curling executive

A new executive has been elected to operate the Minden Curling Club for the upcoming season. They will officially take office on June 1.

At the recent banquet and awards night, outgoing president Jerry McKelvey announced the results of secret balloting held during the month of April.

Jerry will occupy the past president's post with Dwight Thomas, elected as the new president. Elected vice-president was Gareth Kellett with Jacqueline Chilton and Margaret Harrison acclaimed to the positions of secretary and treasurer respectively.

Elected to the positions of Director were: Chris Coneybeare, Bob Colliver, Dave Camelon, Elaine Blakey, Jim Garbutt, Al Leblanc, Mike Maybee and Nancy Garbutt.

Fitweek encourages variety of activities

- by Bill Scott, MP -

For the fifth consecutive year, Canada's Fitweek (formerly called National Physical Activity Week) will welcome spring and warm-up for summer with an invigorating and attractive array of fun-filled fitness activities, challenges and special events.

More than six million Canadians are expected to join in this high energy celebration of fitness and physical activity, taking place May 22 to 31.

Coordinated by Fitness Canada, Fitness and Amateur Sport, Fitweek is a cooperative effort shared by many national sport, recreation and fitness organizations, municipal, provincial and territorial governments as well as the corporate sector. This year, 26 organizations are joining to stage 14 national projects guaranteed to quicken the pulse and stir even the most dedicated couch-potato.

You can "Catch the Wave" in swimming pools across the country, "Rally to Squash" (sponsored by V8), indulge in badminton's "Smashing Experience" or "Run for Light" with the Canadian Blind Sports Association. School-kids will be urged to "Get Up and Go" while girl guides will be enjoying "Great Endings for Good Beginnings". Along with the usual spring fever, young people will also be infected with the highly contagious "MOGA Madness" a high school contest to stage the most outrageous group activity ever organized by Canadian youth. High spirits and wild imagination are the outstanding MOGA symptoms; fresh air hijinks and plenty of activity is the prescribed cure.

You can square and round dance, serve-em-up at tennis, participate during the Crownlife PARTICIPATION Challenge, join a YWCA "Walk a Fun" or become a star trekki during the "Elderobic Moonwalk" when thousands of Canadian seniors embark on an interstellar return trip to the moon. Cycling to work during "Working Wheels", fun runs and cooperative games are also on the fitness agenda with all activities accessible to disabled and able participants alike.

As Otto Jelinek, Minister of State for Fitness and Amateur Sport, states: "Canada's Fitweek is an opportunity for all Canadians to participate in either a new activity of an old favourite. For many, it could be the start of more regular participation in physical activity and heightened awareness of the many benefits and special satisfaction of improved fitness. Join your family, friends and neighbours during Fitweek and help get Canada moving."

And, in order to get festivities off on the right foot, be sure to celebrate Sneaker Day, the May 22 kick-off to Fitweek, by wearing your favourite sneakers at work, in school, at the shopping centre or at home. Feet first is a fun way to step into the nine days of activities and events that follow. Over 300,000 volunteers and leaders, including many in our local community, are mobilized to stage 12,000 events for Canadians of all ages, abilities, cultural backgrounds and interests.

Don't be left behind; fit yourself in this spring and be a part of Canada's Fitweek. It's your move.

For more Fitweek information in your area, contact your local recreation department or: Canada's Fitweek Project Centre, 333 River Road, Tower B, 7th Floor, Ottawa, Ontario K1L 8H9.

from the chamber

by Shawn Hagerman

Recently two of our members, Elgin Stouffer and David Phillips have participated in international projects that were meant to directly help people in the third world.

Elgin has returned from Peru, where he was helping lend his expertise to the forest industry of that country. David Phillips, along with Gerry Feltham of Ingoldsby and seven other people from across Canada, flew to Nicaragua to help build a house for a family in that country. This project was sponsored through Habitat for Humanity, under the auspices of the United Church of Canada.

I think such actions in our society are vital and well needed. There is a duty for everyone who has, to reach back, and help those who have not. There are several ways to help.

Personally I have always felt that an organization such as Foster Parents was an excellent vehicle by which to do this, but I think perhaps the most effective is to directly go there yourself and participate. We as a community, country and society need to raise our consciousness beyond the levels of our own little foothills and see the rest of the world around us. By doing so, we not only help others, but ourselves as well.

Once Billy Graham was enduring the close scrutinies of the tax auditors. They confronted him with a 10 million dollar gift to Russia and asked him as to why he was giving such a large gift to the Russians. He replied that it was to buy bibles for distribution through the network of Christians in that country. That was his way of helping to counteract Communism. He turned upon his accusers and asked them if that was not a better way than sending guns and troops.

I think that as a society we need to carry forward that same attitude of help. We must each reach back in our own way and help those, whoever they may be, that are less fortunate than ourselves.

And so to you Elgin, David and Gerry and the others...keep doing, we all benefit from your efforts.

long been evident among the so-called lower forms of life. There are photos of fish with large cancerous growths, a condition previously unknown in fish. Young cormorants from colonies on the Great Lakes are shown, unable to feed because of malformed bills.

We heard Dr. Chant, toxicologist, and Chairman of the Ontario Waste Management Corporation, tell us that, if we continue on our present course, it is only a matter of time before serious health problems, related to continued exposure to toxic chemicals develop in human beings.

But this is not the inevitable course of events. There are solutions, Waterloo, because of its tough environmental laws, has forced companies to look at sensible ways of cleaning up. The film takes us to look at Len Raucher's electro-plating plant, which is no longer producing the large quantities of toxic substances common to the business. He is purifying his rinse water, recycling what he can and treating unrecoverable wastes. He says that being forced to clean up has made his operation more efficient.

Yes, the problem has a solution; the technology is there. With a forceful appeal to each of us to inform ourselves about the problem in our area and some concrete suggestions about what we might do, the producer ends the film on a strong and positive note. It's a film you can't afford to miss. Your life may depend on it. Watch for it on your local channel.

Two wheels and a dream

When Bill Hamilton was a boy growing up in Oshawa, he remembers his father once rebuked him for being so lazy because he rode his bike to school instead of walking the four miles.

But he kept on riding. And sometimes, he and his brother even rode up to visit a family friend in North Bay. The trip was 400 miles both ways and took the two boys eight days. Hamilton was about 12 years old at the time.

With all that practice, says Hamilton, he couldn't help but become fast.

At the age of 17, in 1947, he joined the Victor Cycle Club, a local bicycling team. Most of the other members were a lot older and more experienced than he but it wasn't long before he was winning most of the competitions.

Within a year of joining he club, Hamilton had made the Canadian Olympic cycling team.

"I was just a kid," he says. "I didn't know anything about anything but they had to let me on the team because no one could beat me."

He remembers the 1948 London Olympics as one of the greatest experiences of his life. "I was 18 years old and I'd hardly ever been out of Oshawa before. Then suddenly, there I was on the Canadian team with a boat ticket for England."

For the boy from Oshawa the voyage of a lifetime didn't start well. He was seasick for most of the trip. But once in London, things quickly picked up.

"The people were great, really friendly," he says. "They treated us well and we saw a lot."

The Olympic races themselves were small affairs compared to the opening ceremonies, Hamilton recalls.

"It was the the greatest feeling marching into that stadium and being introduced to the crowd. And then they let the pigeons go..."

Canada did not fund its Olympic teams well in those days and Hamilton and his fellow cyclists found themselves out-matched by the more practiced and sophisticated European teams, so they didn't win any medals.

"Part of the problem was that in London we used to ride the bus for an hour every day to get to the training site. By the time you arrived there was no energy left."

"In those days athletes weren't treated like they are today. Mostly you had to pay your own way. On the Olympic team we didn't get much money. Canada paid for the boat ticket and accommodation when we were there, but we didn't get anything else.

In his racing days, Bill Hamilton practices for a meet.

"I had $16 in my pocket when I stepped on the boat."

Equipment in those days didn't compare to what modern cyclists ride, at least for Hamilton. "My bike was a real klunker. It weighed twice as much as everybody else's and eventually they had to send me a new one when I was in England."

Two years after the Olympics he found himself on board another ship, bound this time for the British Empire Games in New Zealand. He remembers those games even more fondly than the Olympics.

"The boat trip lasted three weeks, and knowing I'd be seasick, I arranged to fly home so as to avoid at least some of the sea travel. But after a week into the voyage to New Zealand, I was fine and I was having a great time."

The ship stopped along the way at Fiji and at a coral atoll called Canton. Hamilton has photographs of his adventures among the natives of these South Pacific islands.

"I learned a lot on that trip. I found that Canadians are just like everybody else in the world."

"In New Zealand, all the athletes stayed together. I got a chance to meet a lot of them and was also able to see a lot of the country." And the country, he says, was beautiful. He was struck by the number of sheep, but compares the landscape to the rolling hills of northern Ontario. Unfortunately however, the Canadian team returned once again without medals to show for their effort.

Lots of practice

Hamilton attributes his early success in bicycling to the practice he got riding to school. "You were always late so you ended up riding those miles as fast as you could. It didn't matter that I only had a $10 bicycle in those days, because when I finally got a good one from CCM, that weighed half as much, I rode twice as fast."

Also, he says, the help he got from other members of the Victor Cycle Club played a large part. "I was just a kid looking for some one to point me in a direction - and that's what they did."

In particular, it was a cyclist by the name of Lance Pugh who took Hamilton under his wing and made sure he did the right things.

"Lance didn't show any particular interest when I first joined the club, but once I started to win races, then he began to offer advice."

Most of the club members were older than Hamilton and that helped because they had cars and could drive to the races many of which were as much as two days travelling time away.

"I remember one race we went to," he says, "in Three Rivers, Quebec. The drive took us two days. And back then no one gave you travelling expenses - you made your own way to races."

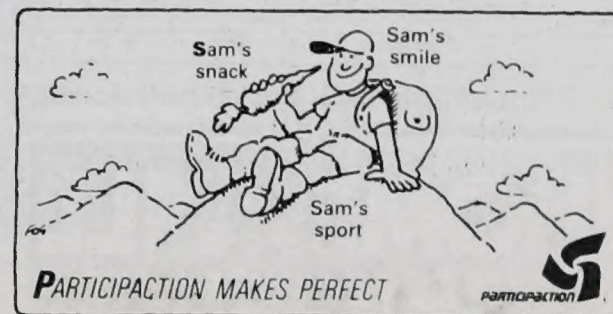

But the sport was gruelling and it took its toll. He explains, "After all that pedalling you've got to do something to your body. After I came back from the Empire games I started to feel it a lot more.

"When I was in training for the Olympics with the Victor Cycle Club, I used to be able to pick myself up after a fall and just keep going, but after the Empire games" - he was in his late 20's by then - "I started to feel it a lot more."

After a particularly bad fall, he stopped racing altogether. But it wasn't just the fall. "After you've made the Olympics and the Empire games, you've done it - there's nothing left to try for," says Hamilton.

In recognition of his achievements, Hamilton is being inducted into the Oshawa Civic Centre Sports Hall of Fame at a ceremony on May 27.

Bill Hamilton, his son Greg, and wife Shirley show off some of the awards Bill won.

Latest play is a rib tickler

Laughter in its many forms - giggles, snickers, genuine amusement and hearty guffaws - was the order of the evening Thursday when the Highlands Little Theatre Group took to the boards to present their latest comedy "Play On."

The small, but appreciative audience was treated to a most ambitious and funny play within a play, and the characters as they emerged showed, yet again, the talent and dexterity of the Highlands Little Theatre Group.

Mother Nature took a hand during the first act, when the characters had to compete with a loud thunderstorm, but they overcame the noise and distraction in a most professional manner.

Christine Lyne, who plays the long-suffering director of the play, 'Murder Most Foul' is excellent, as are the other characters who seem to have only one goal in life, to drive her crazy!

The play opens at a rehearsal of 'Murder Most Foul', a play written by a local playwright who has a penchant for alliteration and changing the script willy-nilly. Nancy Robichaud's portrayal of this vapid, thorn-in-the-side was hilarious. (Why the director of the play didn't do her an injury remains a mystery!)

The other characters in the play were excellent also, Dale McConnell and Debra Dart as Henry and Polly Benish played their parts to the hilt as did Michael Gilhooly, Anne Creelman, Patricia Gilhooly and Philip Taylor. A sound-and-lighting-and scenic-technician played by Brenda Ellis kept the laughter rolling as she interrupted rehearsals mostly offstage while driving the stage manager, ably played by Maureen O'Hara, and everyone else to distraction.

The group really showed their talent in the third act - the opening night of the play - which, of course, turns out a downright farce! The sight gags and the bloopers performed were the hit of the evening, their timing was excellent and the closing curtain with the speech from the author and the final indignity perpetrated on the cast by Brenda Ellis, brought the performance to a howling conclusion.

The audience thoroughly enjoyed the entire performance and Bonnie Fitzgerald is to be complimented on her direction of the players.

It was a most entertaining and funny presentation. The Highlands Little Theatre Group deserved the long and loud applause afforded them at the final curtain.

Fire hazard highest in years as smoke eaters battle blazes up to 200 acres

From an altitude of 500 feet, the full extent of the damage wrought by the May 8 forest fire at Union Creek near Kinmount is plain to see. The helicopter dips and circles the 200 acre stretch of blackened terrain to give Ministry of Natural Resources fire crew boss John Bishop a better view.

Once, the area must have been picturesque. But now the rolling hills are a uniform black, punctuated here and there with the skeletons of trees.

"The fire's pretty well out there but there are still a few hot spots inside the burn," says Bishop. These are being dealt with by an MNR crew that can be seen below, moving about the burned ground with shovels and portable pumps. One man waves at the helicopter.

Satisfied there's no danger of the blaze flaring up again, Bishop signals the pilot to resume his flight across Haliburton County in search of new, unreported fires.

The fire at Union Creek was one of the largest MNR crews have ever fought in Minden District (an area of 2,000 square miles roughly covering Haliburton County). It took five local fire departments and two MNR crews nearly three days to put it out completely.

The fire got so big so quickly because of the recent dry, hot weather. "The forests are as dry as tinder," explains Dave Smallwood, a fire boss from the Algonquin Park office who was called to help out at Haliburton County Fire Operations Headquarters.

"When fires get started in weather like this, it takes a lot more to put them out," says Smallwood.

So far this year MNR crews have helped put out 18 forest fires in the Minden District. In fact that's not unusual, but what is unusual is the size of the fires they're dealing with. In past years the average blaze covered less than an acre before being put out. This year the average is closer to 20 acres.

Smallwood explains that what makes their job in the county particularly difficult is the fact that much of the land is privately owned.

"Our first priority" he says, "is to protect human life, and then private property. So occasionally we'll start to attack a fire at a flank or even at the rear in order to save a cottage. Once we've secured our first two priorities then we can go at the fire directly."

The crews have their job cut out for them. Most of the fires they fight - in fact 80 per cent of them - are started by careless people. A meagre 20 per cent are caused by lightning.

A blaze that burned 18 acres of brush and trees in Stanhope on May 8 was started by children. Another fire that same day near Redstone Lake was traced to a fisherman's campfire that wasn't properly put out.

And the Union Creek fire, it has been learned, was started by a tree branch that was blown on to a powerline.

Says Smallwood: "We've been working so hard I can't seem to remember which fire started when - they're all blended in my mind into one big fire."

In the past two weeks the MNR have gone to 12 fires in Minden District.

Smallwood is based at the Whitney station in the Algonquin District, but was called with his crew to help deal with the problem in Minden District.

Fire crews throughout Ontario and Canada are constantly being shuffled about to help out at bad fires. Right now one of the three Haliburton crews is fighting a blaze in the Thunder Bay region, and last year a crew was flown to Red Lake in northern Ontario to aid in the effort against one of the biggest fires on record in the province.

And there's even an agreement with the United States for the sharing of crews when conditions are extreme.

"Forest fires are never easy to put out and the Union Creek fire was typical in this way," says Smallwood. He and his crew arrived at the fire about 3:15 Saturday afternoon.

An ugly black scar marks the edge of the 200 acre fire near Union Creek.

It wasn't until 9 that night that with the help of five municipal fire departments and a second MNR crew they were able to stop it from spreading. It was under control by Sunday morning. And a day later a mop-up crew was extinguishing the last few smouldering groundfires.

Helicopter helped

"It was the helicopter," explains Smallwood, "that really saved the day. When it was flown up to us on Sunday afternoon, we were able to see exactly where the fire was burning worst, and from that information we developed a plan of attack. Once we knew where to hit the fire we were able to stop it."

The problem with forest fires, he says, is that they're often so big and there's often so much smoke that it's almost impossible to locate the centre to see where they're burning.

"In the fires in northern Ontario you can't do anything without a helicopter because it's all evergreen that's burning. In Haliburton it's different. You get a lot more grass fires - they're much easier to put out - and because we have a lot more hardwood, the flames don't so often get into the crowns of the trees."

Another big help in fighting fires, says

Smallwood, are infra-red scanners. "Once we've put out the worst of a big fire, they sometimes fly over the burned area with a scanner. Any hot-spots will be picked up."

As soon as the crew leader has seen the results of the scan he send his men to the places indicated. That way, the fire doesn't flare up again a few days later.

"Firefighting is always a very complex business," explains Smallwood. "As soon as I arrive at a blaze, I have to make a whole series of quick assessments before I can begin to plan the attack."

"I have to determine where the fire is spreading, I have to locate endangered cottages or property, I have to find a water source - which often isn't easy."

"If it's a grass fire, I can send the men in with hand tools and that's usually enough. But as soon as the flames get into the trees you have to formulate a new plan of attack."

Some of the fires in the north are so intense, he says, that they must be attacked indirectly from the air and by destroying fuel in the fire's path.

Smallwood would be much happier if he didn't have to respond to calls as often as he does. After all, if 80 per cent of all forest fires are caused by man, that's 80 per cent that could and should have been prevented.

Helicopter pilot Porus Dinshaw outlines ground crew procedures to members of the Haliburton firefighting contingent. The helicopter was based in Haliburton last week to assist firefighters in reaching a number of blazes throughout the county. The aircraft was also used to "bomb" a large blaze south of Kinmount May 9.

Skaters win awards

The following Figure Skaters attended the Lindsay Spring School held at the Ops Arena. They were Kyla Grexton, Marita Schrader, Kristi Barkwell, Janene Garbutt, Cori Barkwell, Tammy Pritchard, Sara Lee Henderson, Lisa Carr and Jane Symons. The test days were held May 9 and 10 with the Minden girls doing really well.

In the Junior tests, Marita Schrader and Kyla Grexton passed their proficiency test.

Janene Garbutt and Cori Barkwell passed their Ten-Fox Dance and Cori Barkwell also passed her Fiesta Dance, her First Figure and her Junior Bronze Free Skate.

Sara Lee Henderson passed her Paso Dance test.

Lisa Carr passed her Novice Competitive Test. This test consists of figures, free skate and isolated elements and the skater must receive a combined passing figure. Lisa is the first skater in the Minden club who has passed this test which entitles skaters to compete in the qualifying rounds for the Canadian Championships.

Jane Symons our senior coach, passed her Senior Silver Free Skate test. Jane should be a real inspiration to all of us because our goals can always be attained by determination and hard work.

All skaters who participated in spring school should be commended for their efforts, whether they passed or failed, they were out there doing their best.

Sunday's test day was also a combined farewell and appreciation party for Mrs.

Ann Yeo who has coached many of the Minden girls during off season schools in Lindsay. Mrs. Yeo is retiring after many years of teaching figure skating. She will be missed, not only in this area, but all over Ontario.

$40,000 for Somerville

A $40,000 Ontario Home Renewal Program (OHRP) grant for the Township of Somerville was announced today by the Honourable John Eakins, MPP for Victoria-Haliburton on behalf of Housing Minister Alvin Curling.

Somerville Township is among a large number of municipalities receiving a total of $12 million in provincial OHRP funding, Mr. Eakins said.

Administered by municipalities, the program assists homeowners to upgrade their homes, with the emphasis on faulty structural and sanitary conditions, and on plumbing, insulation, heating and electrical systems.

Loans of up to $7,500 are made available to eligible owner-occupants who wish to bring their homes up to standard. A portion of a loan may be forgiven, depending on the recipient's income. Interest rates range from zero to ten per cent, again depending on income.

Physically-disabled homeowners, or homeowners with physically-disabled relatives living permanently with them, may qualify for loans of up to $9,500. This special maximum loan recognizes the extra costs involved in alterations that makes homes more accessible inside and outside.

For applicants, the maximum annual qualifying income, after allowable deductions are made, is $20,000.

Since 1974, the Township of Somerville has received $210,000 in grants which have helped upgrade 83 homes.

OHRP benefits are available to owner-occupants in all municipalities which have adopted minimum housing standard bylaws or resolutions establishing standards, and have decided to take part in the program. In communities without municipal boundaries, OHRP is administered by the Ministry of Housing in conjunction with the Ministry of Northern Development and Mines.

OHRP is one of the province's rehabilitation initiatives designed to help conserve housing.

Stanhope swap ends agreeably

Larry VanLieshout has accepted Stanhope council's offer to exchange a spring he owns for three severances and a small parcel of municipal land.

Van Lieshout applied to sever an approximately 80 acre piece of land he owns on Highway 118 at the south east end of Maple Lake to create three lots of about seven acres each and one large sixty-acre lot at a council meeting last March.

Council agreed to the severance under the condition that VanLieshout deed to the township, one of the seven-acre lots on which there is a fresh water spring that has been used by the public for the last seventy years.

However a number of Stanhope residents told council they objected to the proposed severances.

At last Thursday's council meeting, a letter from Van Lieshout was read that stated he accepted council's offer of an exchange. The letter stipulated though that his acceptance was conditional on the outcome of an Ontario Municipal Board hearing into the matter scheduled for June 12.

Library has grown from 2 to 10 branches

by Joel Levis

Many people are interested in what they suspect will happen in the future but just as many are fascinated by the past. Rather than dwelling upon the progress being made in our database creation project, we thought that it might be appropriate to take a few broad steps back into County Library history. While we may not have the longest library history, it is significant and it is fascinating.

The Haliburton County Library Board was formally established in 1965 when all of the municipal libraries in the county were brought together for the purposes of centralized purchasing of materials, processing, InterLibrary Loan, circulation procedures and other general sound library science policies which were established and put into place. It is this sharing of resources and getting the maximum results for the money spent through the basic elements of co-operation that make the system work and make it one of the most responsive anywhere.

As is still the case, all library buildings and equipment remained the responsibility of the local municipality, each of the facilities having a local committee composed of interested citizens responsible for the building and serving as liaison with the county board. For purposes of public library service, there was and is only one board for the county.

These committees have frequently proven to be helpful in establishment of new services, the enlargement of facilities and other activities. However, the general responsibility for materials selection and quality of service within the mandate of the county board who is also responsible for staff training, payment of salaries and other staffing matters.

In 1965, Haliburton County was served by only two branches which were located in Haliburton (Dysart) and Minden, sharing a basic bookstock of 8,000 volumes which were uncatalogued and hence, not readily available for resource sharing of InterLibrary Loan.

Compare this with the fact that virtually all of the materials in place are now catalogued and county headquarters maintains union catalogue facilities which ensure resource sharing and an efficient InterLibrary Loan service for the benefit of everyone. This capability will be greatly enhanced with the development of our automated systems. But we were not going to talk about that right now.

Back in 1965, public library service got off to a flying start with the establishment of library collections in Tory Hill, Cardiff Townsite, Gooderham, Dorset and Harcourt and in the next year, a branch was established in Snowdon and new, roomier facilities were acquired in Wilberforce. In addition, the board authorized over 50 deposits across the county.

In 1967, we experienced a really big year, because of the many major changes which were made; indeed, almost all of the branches were affected. For example, Minden branch underwent extensive renovations and Dysart branch moved to its present location - keep an eye on its Mountain Street location because there are a few big changes on the way - or even better, drop in and meet the staff yourself!

Renovations were carried out at Monmouth, Bicroft, Glamorgan, Snowdon and Sherborne and a new sub-station was added at Oxtongue to serve the eastern portion of Sherborne Township, the Dorset branch already in place in the west.

At this point, our book collection was up to 9200 volumes and operations expenses were $24,000 but unfortunately the demand for service at Oxtongue and Harcourt had to be rationalized against the cost and anticipated growth with the result that both were closed.

In 1970, new branches were opened at Highland Grove in Cardiff Township and Stanhope. But while there was no major expansion in 1971, the Monmouth branch moved three times in six months with the final stop being their present location. Maybe that should count!

The following year saw a new library built in Glamorgan which finished in 1973; a new facility will open later this year to the benefit of the whole community. Plans are also afoot to develop a new branch in Sherborne (Dorset branch) which will be exciting in itself. The present system rounded itself off at ten branches in 1976 with the opening of the Lutterworth branch.

Looking at the system today, we see that we have our ten branches which offer excellent services and access to 31,000 catalogued books in our collection and access to nearly 500 films. A new selection policy has been implemented and new books and other materials are being added to the collection on an almost daily basis.

And while this has nothing to do with database creation, we have constant access to the TRESNET computer system which gives us unlimited access to just about any book in the world and to over 10,000 films in the OLS-Trent service area as well as elsewhere.

We have over 100 magazine subscriptions and a growing number of programmes being provided throughout the county which take the form of films, puppet events, crafts and many other events too numerous to mention.

Our operating budget for this year is $213,000 which is provided through grants from the government of Ontario and the Haliburton County Council, but this is only a small sum when benefits to our users are taken into consideration.

Computer access to TRESNET alone is paid for by the government of Ontario and most of the external support that we receive is part of the global provincial support for library services. But before you begin to wonder...our efforts are paying off. Library usage in general in the whole country is increasing as never before and while we were showing a modest 5% increase in the 1986 year, during the first three months of 1987, library usage was up an additional 7% for that brief period proving that more and more people are discovering their library and although we didn't say it first, they are "watching us grow."

Come see how better public library service begins right here in Haliburton County.

1986 boating deaths down 45%

Last year, boating related deaths fell 45 per cent when compared to 1985 on water patrolled by the Ontario Provincial Police.

"During 1986, 55 people died in boating incidents compared to 100 deaths the previous year. We attribute this dramatic decline to a marked change in the public's attitude about boating safety and impaired boating," said OPP Commissioner Archie Ferguson.

Part of this change in attitude can be attributed to the OPP Marine Awareness Program. While the main thrust of this program is public education, 250 officers of the OPP Marine Units will again be firm in dealing with violators this summer.

When on patrol, each of the OPP's 105 boats will be equipped with an alcohol breath tester (the same type as used in patrol cars) to determine if the operator of a boat has been consuming alcohol. Last year, a total of 29,671 boats were checked by the OPP Marine Units.

This summer, OPP Marine officers will be on the lookout for unsafe boats, overloading, lack of safety equipment such as life jackets, careless waterskiing and reckless boating.

"Having a safe boating season is no accident. Only through public awareness of the rules of the waterways can we make Ontario's rivers and lakes safe for everyone," said Commissioner Ferguson.

Young artists the Walk for An added feature of this year's Walk for Water fund raising effort, is a poster contest in which youngsters will be able to win shoulder bags and backpacks created by Sennitt Puppets of Wrinkles fame. The entries for the contest will be used to publicize the event and hopefully increase interest and awareness in the purpose of the walk. One of the organizers, Eric Lillius, provided the following information on the poster contest.

The contest is open to school age children and will be divided into 3 sections: (1) 5-8 years; (2) 9-12 years; (3) 13 and over.

The poster can be any size and can be done in any medium, (i.e. pencil, crayon, marker, paint, etc.)

The poster should encourage others to participate in the Walk for Water. Past walks have raised approximately $30,000 which have been matched by the Canadian International Development

Kickers tie season opener

by Jim Milne
Dixie Lee opened their fifth season of play in the Muskoka District Soccer League with a 1-1 tie against Huntsville Seniors.
Huntsville scored at the 20 minute mark of the first half. Andy Shapiera came out to the edge of the 18 yard box to challenge a Huntsville player breaking into the clear. The forward was forced to the outside but managed to send the ball across the goalmouth over Dixie Lee defenders where it was headed in.

Dixie Lee has a number of chances in the first and second half but did not score until the last 5 minutes. Paul Milne dribbled the ball up the left wing and lobbed a ball into the centre by the Huntsville 18 yard box.
Mike Hatkoski headed the ball on to Hans Walter who fought off a challenge by a fullback. He sent the ball into the far corner. With only two minutes left, Ivor Thompson hit the post on a scoring attempt.
Dixie Lee played a strong game although they were without three regular players. Darryl Goodall played well in an unfamiliar fullback spot.

Trent Severn report

The stored water in the Haliburton Lakes this year peaked on May 4 at 85.6% before a decline began. This spring has been relatively dry to date and some water has been needed already, especially from the higher lakes to top up and hold the lakes along the canal route. Flow leaving the Kawartha Lakes has been cut back to its summer minimum too, to conserve as much as possible.
The spring peak flow was less than the mean annual peak even from the Kawarthas, but in other areas such as Haliburton the lakes did not even reach their usual full level. Early in the season we usually do not have to deliberately draw water from the reserve until about mid-June.
Last year the weather turned very wet in mid-May after a long dry spell, but there is no forecast of such an occurrence for 1987. Even a small rain would be welcome now, but something substantial is needed to get all the lakes back to average conditions.

Squash

Another season has come to a close at the Highlands Squash Club in Haliburton. The club wrapped up its year with the annual championship games this month.
Taking the men's "A" competition was Andy Hemphill with Darrell Stamp placing second. In the consolation round, Hugh Nicholls grabbed top spot, playing against Gary Brohman.
In the men's "B" division, Vince Duchene defeated Gary Grosschadl. In the "C" competition it was Jim Andrews over Jeff Catel.
In a round robin series, veteran Nick Ross defeated Leigh Clark in the final competition.
Jody Ainsworth took top spot in the Women's "A" division in her match against Lori Roberts. In the "B" section, Shirley Rydman defeated Judy Notley.

Archie Stouffer Elmentary School music teacher Glen Carter conducts the grade 8 band during the annual music night held at the school Thursday. The program included a varied offering of instrumental and vocal music from the grade 6, 7 and 8 music students.

Police investigate Gooderham break-in Police are continuing an investigation into a break-in at the liquor store in Gooderham. The store was entered on the evening of May 14.

Access to the building was gained by breaking a window. Although it is yet to be determined what was taken in the break-in, the quantity is not believed to have been large.

The Gooderham store is a seasonal operation which opened for business two days prior to the break-in.

The matter is being investigated by Constables Ken Wesley and Mark Davis.

Shooting

A man has been charged with possession of a weapon dangerous to the public peace following an incident May 12 in Snowdon Township.

Police report that Walter Griffin of the Minden area was driving along the Upper Dutch Line Road in Snowdon Township after having set out bear bait. The man heard a gunshot and realized his truck had been struck by pellets.

Following an investigation, the police charged 35 year old Richard Hilyer with the weapons offense. The man is scheduled to appear in provincial court July 8.

The matter is being investigated by Constable Ron Buchanan.

Mischief charge

A charge of mischief has resulted in a year's probation for a Minden woman.

Sonya Holliday-Rhodes pleaded guilty to the charge which arose out of an altercation between herself and her daughter, Julia, in the Minden Becker's store. The incident took place in late 1986.

In the altercation, a display jar, valued at $85 was broken.

Judge Inrig ordered the woman to make restitution to the store for the damage, and, during the period of probation, keep the peace and be of good behaviour.

A second charge involving assault, was dismissed by the judge.

Fine

A $500 fine has been levied against a Haliburton man after he was found guilty of possession of a deer taken in the closed season.

According to information supplied by the Ministry of Natural Resources, the conviction followed a lengthy investigation. The man's hunting privileges were also suspended for a one year period.

The matter was investigated by Conservation Officer Barry Walker.

Motorcycle stolen

Constable Jim Morris is continuing his investigation into the theft of a motorcycle and a number of power tools. The items were removed from a locked garage on the property of Ian Colman in Minden Township.

Taken in the break-in was a 1982 Harley Davidson motorcycle. The break-in occurred on the evening of May 11.

A typographical error in last week's report on new concerns at the Ministry of Environment acid rain testing station in Dorset resulted in an incorrect statement being made. Voices from HHSS

Welcome back! First off we'd like to congratulate those competitors who placed and qualified in COSSA last Wednesday. Under the coaching of Mr. Colliver, Mr. Morrisette and Mrs. Bailey, it's no wonder our team had done so well.

The big news of the week, as you have no doubt guessed, is the one million dollar plus expansion plans for the school library. Many books need to be updated and replaced, and so, the extra finances will go to good use. Students use the library regularly for researching information for the many projects and essays that we are always blessed with; without adequate room and materials to use, these things cannot be studied to their fullest, so an expansion could actually help improve students' grades.

In our next edition we will have an interview with Mrs. Phillips, the school's librarian, on how he feels about the subject. Watch for it!

Last Thursday the HHSS Concert Band returned from their band exchange in Sharbot Lake. One of our co-writers Dianne Garbutt, was on the trip and has filled us in on the details.

On Sunday, the group left the school and with the help of Nada's goodies, arrived at Sharbot Lake around 7:15 p.m. The concert band members of the host town were waiting to greet them in the school's auditorium and from there, they all went to a barbeque at one of the teacher's houses. After the meal, it was back to school, where the host parents picked up the kids and took them home.

The next day, our band played the first concert of the trip to an appreciative Sharbot Lake audience. This, their first successful performance, was rewarded by a visit to the Hershey chocolate factory nearby (the best part of all was the free samples.)

Later that night, around 7:30 p.m., the combination of our school's concert and stage bands and that of the hosts played in the major concert of the trip. All players did excellently and had fun, but standing out in the minds of the audience was our stage band's "Spanish Fever" which brought down the house.

Tuesday was mainly spent "seeing the sights"; being the tourist for a change. Among the stops were the Aviation Museum near Ottawa, the Canadian War Museum (on Sussex Drive, the same street as the Prime Minister of Canada lives), the Rideau Centre, the Buildings of Parliament, the Market Place and of course, the Mall (on Sparks Street).

Dinner for most of the band was at the Burger King in Perth (don't forget the donuts from Tim Horton's). Around 8:30 they got back to the host school to watch the movie "Aliens" then went back to their temporary homes.

The group's last day in Sharbot Lake was highlighted by a walking tour of the town. From here, they were on the road for home. Near the end of the 8th period on Wednesday, they finally arrived at the school, happy and a little tired.

In closing we would like to ask the teachers a question: Why is it that you haven't ordered a locker clean-out in months? We are becoming desperate! Those egg salad sandwiches from February are "smelling up" the school and if we aren't told to get rid of them before long, they'll walk out on their own! Just a thought.

See you next week.

Heather Donaldson, Katy Beach, Dianne Garbutt, Misti Campbell.

Look after those fresh cut flowers

by Doreen Hawman

Did your husband bring you a dozen roses or maybe you just decided to treat yourself?

If you follow a few basic steps you will enjoy your bouquet for a longer period of time.

Upon their arrival, re-cut the stems at an angle. If you have roses or tulips, do it under water so that air does not creep up the stem and cause the flower head to droop.

Fill your vase with room temperature water and add only the floral preservative that comes complimentary with flowers.

Remove all foliage on stems below the water line and take care not to scrape or cut the stem bark.

If arranging, let the flowers stand in the vase for two to four hours before arranging and saturate oasis in water with floral preservative.

Avoid direct sun and hot rooms. The cooler you keep them, the longer they will last, do not place in the refrigerator. Change the water every two days and yes, re-cut the stems.

If you require help with forms or have a question that needs answering, contact the Haliburton County Information Centre in the Municipal Building, Milne Street, Minden open every Tuesday 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. or call 286-4100. Further to the Four Season Fashion raffle, winner of the white evening shawl woven by Marion Langdon was Marie Collison.

Guild curator Elene Freer, a trained Folklorist, has been invited to participate in a panel discussion entitled "Folklorists in the Public Sector". Elene and Dr. Gary Butler of York University are the organizers of this dialogue, which will explore the role of folklorists in public and cultural institutions as part of the Learned Society of Canada Conference to be held this month at McMaster University in Hamilton.

A new guild group, the machine knitters, has just been established. Members who call themselves "Country Ribbers" meet every second Sunday of the month at the home of June Beeny.

On May 11 and 12, the potters said goodbye to Ron Roy who has been their teacher for the past nine months. This year's course concentrated mainly on design.

The 100" loom is now in place at the Haliburton Highlands Museum. Members of the weaver's group are taking turns in using the loom on which blankets, tablecloths and other large articles can be produced. The loom has been rented from the Ontario Spinners and Weavers Guild and will stay in Haliburton for a full year.

Hello Readers:

The weather is lovely but rain is needed badly. I was very sorry to miss Sunday evening services and the lovely voice of Heather Bowron.

Our tea party ladies last week were from Wilberforce Anglican Church. Let me tell you, there are some mighty fine cooks in Wilberforce. After a delicious lunch they played the piano and sang the old time songs. We enjoyed every minute of it. This was followed by the Residents' Council meeting with 18 members present.

The Activity girls put on a program on Friday afternoon for Mother's Day. It was Family Day. The auditorium was filled to capacity. The solos were rendered by Shirley Colliss, which was very nice. There were a lot of songs and in between different folks gave tribute to fathers and mothers by poem or singing. The last one on the program was by Linda English to her mother. Lunch was served about 2 o'clock. There were also some good cooks around here. We enjoyed a few remarks from Mr. Samuelson. Linda thanked everyone for coming and so ended a very pleasant afternoon.

On behalf of all the mothers and fathers here, I would like to thank the family members for bringing the lovely lunch and the pieces for poems and words from the heart. You certainly made our day very special.

Jean Taylor had some of her family come on Mother's Day to take her for an outing. My son Bob and his wife Doris from Sundridge came on Saturday, took me for lunch and a nice long drive after. On Sunday Jean took me to church in Kinmount thence to her home for lunch and dinner.

Winnie Barnum had Mr. and Mrs. Cameron from Peterborough take her to dinner and a visit with her family. Dora Dawson had friends from Bobcaygeon as her guests on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Brohm of Oshawa stopped in to see me Saturday evening and brought me a beautiful hydrangea plant.

The movies on Tuesday were "Niagara Falls", "Mac's Mill" and "The Magic Shop".

Ray and Marie Jenkins stopped in to see his mother. Ray played the piano afterwards. We could listen to him play all day.

Till next week.

Somehow every grief and care weights less when spring is in the air.

Branch 129 news

by Gerald Irish

Legion Election '87 is over and the membership has made its decisions. Joan Irish was returned to the office of president for her third term. Other election results are:

First vice president - Mabel Brannigan, second vice-president - Wayne Wood; third vice-president Steve Giles; secretary - Jack Bassett; treasurer - Wally Chambers; sergeant-at-arms - Irv Chambers; executive - Allin Cooper, Grenville Draper, Ken Fieldhouse, Gerald Irish, Fred Knight and Ed Pickard. Service officer (by appointment of the president and executive) - Lloyd Whittaker. Auditors (by a member's motion) - Dawson, Grey and Dart.

The coming year promises to be a busy one for the new executive and for all the membership. The President's Ball on June 6, the anniversary of D-Day, Bluegrass '87 on August 7, 8 and 9, the District Drumhead in late September, the Poppy Campaign and Remembrance Day Services and so on.

I feel the membership has chosen wisely and I offer my congratulations to all the candidates. The number of people running for the various offices is indicative of the high level of interest in and the strength of Branch 129.

The elections and installations of officers were capably run by Comrade Zone Commander Mel Robertson, Comrade Zone Commander Stan Moore and L.A. Zone Commander Comrade Gwen Cox. The scrutineers were from branches in Omamee, Kinmount and Lindsay.

One hundred and twenty-six members were on hand to cast their ballots at the beginning of the elections and numerous guests were present as observers. Again, offering proof of the interest in the affairs of Branch 129.

The joint installations of officers was impressive, especially the installation of Branch 129 president Joan Irish and Ladies Auxiliary president Jan Shipley. Preceded by the pipes and drums, escorted by past presidents and the colour party, the two presidents stated their oath of office in a clear, firm manner which is just one example of the pride and strength of these two women. Our L.A. and branch are in very capable hands.

The Bluegrass Committee chairpersons and interested members held an information meeting recently. All reports were most favourable. Nearly all committees have been formed.

There are still a few looking for volunteers to help. If you can assist Bluegrass '87 in any way, please volunteer. Leave your name and phone number at the office with Jim and a committee leader will get in touch with you.

Recently the Ladies Auxiliary of Branch 129 hosted the Zone euchre tournament. Teams from all over the zone were represented and the tournament was extremely well run. L.A. Sport's officer Comrade Irene Higgins does a great job at arranging these events and at keeping Ladies Auxiliary involvement at a high level. Congratulations Irene.

Last Saturday Legionnaires from the Wilberforce branch chartered a bus to visit various branches in the area. Their first stop was at your branch where they were greeted by president Joan and other executive members.

The visitors enjoyed their brief stay, had a good visit with Branch 129 members, took on some refreshments and left for their next destination. This seems like a fun way to get to visit other branches and form new friendships. If you would like to participate in such a tour, tell a member of the executive about your interest. If enough members want one, I'm sure it could be arranged.

At the General Meeting on May 7 the following donations were approved - $1500 to the newly-formed fastball team to be called the Haliburton Legionnaires, $100 to the Haliburton County Seniors' Games, $100 to the Haliburton County Children's Services programs and $50 to the Cancer Society.

Your legion is involved in your communities. Are you involved in your legion? If not, why not?

CARD OF THANKS

Ira and I wish to express our sincere thanks to friends, neighbours, relatives, the nursing staff, Dr. Dawson, Pastor Doug Kent, and all those who upheld Ira with their prayers; for the many phone calls, cards, deeds of kindness which proved the wonderful caring community we live in and had helped him to a much quicker recovery. Many thanks, Ira and Wanda Carter.

The family of the late Robert Peacock would like to express our thanks to everyone for their memorial donations, their floral tributes also, the Gelert Community Ladies for the luncheon, and the Gordon A. Monk Funeral Home and Father Elliott for his kind words. It was greatly appreciated.

Heartfelt appreciation to the firefighters of Minden, Stanhope and the M.N.R. and to the hydro workers who worked so effectively to keep our bad dream from becoming a nightmare. Maybe you'll come back for a summer barbeque of steaks (or hamburgers - depending on the insurance company). Many thanks!
